Biblical Hospitality: Come On In!	Led by Emily Albright
Showing hospitality is an amazing privilege and duty for followers of Christ, but that doesn't mean that it's easy! In this breakout session, we will look at what the Bible says about hospitality and explore some fun and practical ways to welcome others into our hearts and homes	Emily is the pastor's wife at Huntington Baptist Church in Huntington, Indiana. She has been married to Amos for 30 years in June, and they just celebrated 25 years of service at their church. Emily has recently become an empty-nester, with the youngest of 4 kids leaving for college last fall.
Exploring Spiritual Gifts	Led by Lisa Timmons
What is your passion? What do you love to do? Where do you feel God leading you to serve Him? From the moment you placed your trust in Christ as Savior and Lord, until time is no more, your life's call is to grow in Christlikeness. Join me as we discover a deeper understanding of our spiritual gifts and how God has called you and me to lead out in service to Him.	Lisa's heart for service fuels her passion for the role of teaching ministry for the women and children ministries at her local church. Her work in ministry spans over 30 years in various roles of support as a Pastor's wife and women's mentor. Her love for people and her passion to see them grow in a deeper relationship with Christ brings her purpose full circle in sharing God's love. In her spare time, as she balances work, home, and church life, she continues to work towards a biblical counseling certification.
Hope for Moms in the Early Years of Parenting	Led by Mary Jane Bogle
The early years of parenting are overwhelming! Sleepless nights, screaming toddlers, and the never-ending pressure to be perfect all too often detract from the amazing task God has laid before you. The good news is that the God who has called you to motherhood promises to equip you for every good work!	Mary Jane has raised three amazing young women (and homeschooled them, too...proof that His grace is enough!). A writer and teacher, she attends Calvary Baptist Church and lives in Greenfield, Indiana, with her husband, along with the last kid to launch and two golden retrievers named Charlie and Lola.
Hope in the Darkness: Biblical Help for Depression and Anxiety
Depression and anxiety are at an all-time high. You can find self-help for your mental health around every corner, but how do you decipher the truth from all the noise? Join Melissa on a journey through Scripture to discover God's truth and biblical hope for your mind and heart.	Melissa is a Bible teacher and author residing in Warsaw, IN. She has been ministering to women as a pastor's wife for twenty-five years. Her greatest desire is to help other women find hope and healing through the pages of Scripture.
Ministries of Foster Care, Adoption and Crisis Pregnancy Centers: A Panel Discussion	Led by Chelsea Kellum
A panel of speakers wants to share their hearts on God's calling and their stories of God's leading in the areas of foster care, adoption, and crisis pregnancy intervention. Come and learn how you can personally or collectively with your church be a part of one or more of these incredible ministries.	Chelsea is a recent transplant to Indiana from the South. She is married to SCBI leader, Scooter Kellum. Together they have four biological kids and have the privilege of loving on additional children through foster care.

Realistic Ideas to Disciple Kids under 25	Led by Laura Smith
We all agree it's important to teach our kids to follow Jesus, but between feedings, sports practices, school plays or emotional breakdowns (theirs or mine) where can I find the time? And if I have the time, do I have the strength of will do try a devotion with a teen? Does my baby even benefit when I read her a Bible story because I'm already so exhausted; is it worth the time? What about my adult kids? They don't seem to want my advice. How can I help them seek Christ? Come and let's explore this fun topic together!	Laura a sinner saved by grace. She is blessed to be married to a wonderful pastor for 27 years and a mom of five amazing kids; a daughter who is a scientist in VA, two college kids, and two teens. Though she says that she is not at all athletic, she's a basketball and soccer mom. Children's ministry and substitute teaching keep her busy. Laura grew up in Indianapolis, went to college in Missouri, and seminary in North Carolina. Anna Maria Island, FL, is her happy place. She'd read mysteries by Christian authors all day on the beach if no one needed food or clean clothes.
Renewing Your Mind "How-To"	Led by Leah Pratt
In Romans 12:2, God tells us to "be transformed by the renewal of your mind"—but how do we do that? Our thoughts and emotions seem to change on a whim, but God calls us to "take every thought captive to obey Christ" (1 Corinthians 10:5) since "the heart is deceitful above all things" (Jeremiah 17:9). Come learn a practical, step-by-step process whereby we can submit our thoughts and feelings to Christ and seek real change—through the power of the Spirit and the application of the Scriptures.	Leah has an MDiv from The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. She has ministered to teens for 25 years—the most recent 8 teaching high school Bible at Heritage Christian School in Indy. Leah also worked in secular mental health counseling for 10 years, though she now practices biblical counseling. She also serves alongside her husband in ministry at Calvary Heights Baptist Church in Martinsville. Leah enjoys discipling, singing, thrifting, and blogging at journeytogodly.com.
Sabbatical Rest, Spiritual Renewal and Zeal	Led by Autumn Wall
Romans 12:11 says that as believers we are to, "Never be lacking in zeal, but keep your spiritual fervor, serving the Lord." That sounds nice, but ministry gets hard! And keeping your personal walk with the Lord fresh as you serve can be a challenge. Let's talk about how sabbatical rest, spiritual renewal and zeal all work together for the glory of God.	Autumn is the Worship Team Leader and Lead Pastor's wife at Living Faith Church in downtown Indianapolis. She has served in ministry leadership positions of all sorts for the past 20 years and is committed to advancing the Kingdom with zeal, but also loving Jesus with fervor. Autumn also works a full-time job in Indy and she and her husband Yale have 3 kids.
Small Steps to a Healthy Marriage	Led by Chris Conrades
Marriage is a gift from God, but often we have misconceptions about marriage and how to maintain a strong relationship with our spouse. A healthy marriage does not just happen but requires intentionality and hard work. This breakout session will discuss small practical steps to building a lasting, healthy marriage.	Chris and her husband Dan have been married for 23 years this spring. They have four teenagers and live in Richmond, IN where they planted Crosspoint Church. One thing you might not know about Chris is that she has a degree in Family Studies where she focused on Marriage and Family. She is passionate about helping others build healthy marriages and families and maintaining healthy relationships.

Speak the Truth in Love	Zorina Olson
God defines, truth and He IS love, so how can we truly have one without the other? We'll dig into the scripture and what God says about loving people well by speaking what is true with compassion, boldness and understanding. Just like Jesus.	Zorina is a worship leader at Living Faith Church in Indianapolis. She is passionate about discipling women in their walk with Jesus. She works hard, in the business world, and is intentional to share Jesus as much as possible. Zorina truly loves ministering to broken people in her neighborhood downtown.
The Value of Woman Serving God at All Ages and Stages of Life: Panel Discussion	Led by Audrey Lee
Whether you're new to adulthood, married with children, a middle-aged empty nester, or a fabulous "Golden Girl", there's a place for you to serve. Yes, God wants you!	Audrey is a wife, a mother of two adult sons, a retired Army Officer, and a minister of the Gospel. Audrey serves on the ministerial staff of Christian Community Missionary Baptist, under the leadership of Pastor Delbert Watts, Sr. She serves in music ministry, women's and mentoring ministry, Stephen Ministry, and Sunday School. She is married to Minister Kevin B. Lee, Sr., her husband of 32 years.
The Women of Southern Baptist Disaster Relief	Led by Debbie Porter
Did you know that women play an important role in Disaster Relief efforts of the Southern Baptist Convention? Come find out the "what & hows" of women in Disaster Relief. Learn about what a "call-out" means and entails and what to expect when you serve on a team. There are many physical, emotional, and spiritual needs of those affected by Disasters and there are many roles to "plug into" to make a difference in the lives of people who are hurting. Come find out how to get involved and ask questions you have about SBC Disaster Relief!	Debbie is a lifelong Southern Baptist church member, volunteering with Disaster Relief since 2005. She was drawn to this ministry because of the desperate needs of those affected by Disasters. Her husband Everett "Butch" volunteers as well and was the state director for Illinois, and now serves as the state director in Indiana. Debbie desires to share her experiences and help others understand the "what's and how's" of Disaster Relief.
Treasure of the Heart	Led by Debbie Whidden
How do we serve God and our family without worrying about money? Come learn some practical ways to free yourself from worrying about money from a pastor's wife, mother, and business owner. Come and learn, eat chocolate, and laugh a lot along the way.	Debbie has served alongside her husband, Mitch, in ministry for over 25 years. They have 3 adult children, two grandchildren, and several foster grandchildren. She has been a successful business owner for 6 years. As a mom she knows how to raise kids on a shoestring budget, especially in these hard financial times.

Understanding the "Not My" Generation	Led by Gayla Parker
Titus 2 instructs women to teach women to all ages. It sounds easy, but crossing generational borders is much like crossing cultural borders. In this conference, enjoy looking at the characteristics of past and present generations and learning how women really can effectively minister to and communicate to one another. We can grow and do so much more together than we can separately.	Gayla has been in ministry for over forty years serving as a pastor's wife, international missionary, women's consultant for two Baptist state conventions, Missions Innovator Specialist for W.M.U., author, and speaker. She is currently serving as an adjunct professor at Ouachita Baptist University and executive director for Pregnancy Resource Center.
What Does Prayer Got to Do with It?	Led by Lisa Farrell
Come and hear how God has used prayer to change the lives of local believers and missionaries families. We will learn how vital it is in everything we do and how it truly changes circumstances and people. God has called His people to pray and we will look at how to pray HIS will for our lives, families, communities and world.	Elizabeth and her husband served 23 years with the IMB in several countries in Asia. They have 3 adult children who were born and raised overseas and have seen the value of prayer and the difference it has made in the lives of local believers as well as her own family. Since returning to the States 6 years ago, she has been working as a mental health therapist who works with people who have gone through severe trauma. Her desire is to work with missionary women and women in ministry who have dealt with traumas on the mission field and in the church.
What Do You Do with Your Wait?	Led by Nettie Beck
A trip in discovering how to make the most of your wait, based on the book "In Transit: What Do You Do with Your Wait" by Mike Harder. Whether you are waiting in line at Starbucks, waiting on a loved one to change their actions, waiting at the airport or waiting for a relationship to start or stop....we all have to wait on things throughout our lives. We wait on little things, and we wait on really big things in our lives. We never ever outgrow waiting.	Nettie has served for the past 20 years with her husband Ben as Missionaries with the North American Mission Board, leading Launch Campus Ministry at Purdue (formerly named BCM). Her focus is mentoring, leadership/internship development, mobilizing students on missions, event planning and accounting. She is a member of Calvary Church in West Lafayette. Ben and Nettie have two daughters, Michaela a junior at IUPUI, and Breanna a freshman at Ball State. Nettie serves as the VBS Director for the Volunteer Christian Builders Blackwell Team. She enjoys spending time with family and friends, playing pickleball, hiking and reading. Her favorite bible verses are Matthew 6:33-34.
When Brokenness Leads to Hope: How to Share the Gospel	Led by Allison Kinion
You don't have to look very far to see people, without Christ, struggling with brokenness and without hope. Come learn a simple way to share the hope of Jesus with others by starting at the point of their brokenness and need. Walk away confident and ready to share the Gospel.	Allison has served as the Missions & Women's Leadership Director for SCBI since 2008. She leads the student ministry and sings on the worship team at Calvary Baptist Church in Greenfield, where her husband Roger has been Senior Pastor since 2005. She has been married for 23 years and has two children—Hannah, 20 and Ruston, 17. Allison has been working in vocational church ministry for more than 25 years, serving churches in Texas, South Carolina, Alabama, and Indiana.

Who me? A Control Freak?	Led by Dana James
Even when we know that Jesus is perfectly able and willing to hold all things together; it's not always done in the way or in the timing we think it should be done so we "help" (control)! There is a fine line between wanting things done well and with excellence and done "right" (in my eyes)! If you, like me, tend to want to control things or people or circumstances, etc. then this breakout is for you!	Dana's heart is to connect women to God's heart through the teaching of His Word. She has spoken at conferences, retreats, and events as far away as Africa and as close as her own hometown. After being a college professor and directing a corporate training center she currently loves to mentor, disciple, and teach women to know God and glorify Him with their lives. Dana was not raised in a Christian home yet is a pastor's wife, a pastor's mother, and a pastor's mother-in-law...a testament to the grace and mercy of God!
Who Will Come Behind You?	Led by Lori Jones
If you were to step away from your current ministry, would it continue or would it fizzle? What does the Bible teach us about equipping others to lead? We'll dive into Scripture and look at the qualities, calling, and equipping of a leader.	Lori's life verse is Romans 12:1-2, and it is her desire to be a living sacrifice to the Lord and to be used by Him to make disciples. Married to her favorite pastor for 42 years, together they have 2 married sons and are blessed with 6 grandchildren, affectionately called "Lori's fan club" by her husband.
Women and Work: Why Our Work Matters to God	Led by Carrie Jones
Whether you are a CEO of a company or a stay-at-home mom or somewhere in between, your work makes an eternal impact. Come be encouraged and equipped to confidently step into your God-given calling and view your work as meaningful to the kingdom of God.	Carrie is passionate about women's ministry, biblical literacy, and all things leadership. She has an M.A. from Southern Seminary and wants to see all women living out their God-given callings. Currently, she lives in Indianapolis with her husband JT and daughters Rose and Julia. She works as the Work Done Well Coordinator for Women and Work and serves alongside her husband who is an interim pastor at a growing church plant.
